

Behind the historic Cahoon House and Museum, 27 species of daffodils grace the hillside each spring, creating a vibrant display that honors both horticultural beauty and the rich heritage of the property.